Rawls tops PAGA to win The Cup

The Rawls Men's Golf Association defeated the Pan American Golf Association 321/2 to 151/2 in their fourth annual The Cup matches over the weekend at the Rawls Course.

The RMGA and the PAGA have each won The Cup — a Ryder Cup-style competition — twice in four years.

Rawls players, with a 10-point lead after Saturday, won Sunday's singles matches 191/2 to 121/2.

The two teams split the eight matches in the championship flight, the RMGA getting wins from Josh Alvarado, Eric Eberhardt, John Weast and Will Aycock and the PAGA victories coming from Gilbert Moreno, Rene Vargas, Shaun Carr and Gilbert Cuevas.

The RMGA had 51/2 to 21/2 margins in the first and second flights with first-flight wins from Steve Owen, Anthony Capwell, Garry Copple, Gary Reed and Ross Valigura and second-flight victories from Wade Davenport, Ron Hettler, Frank Morrison, Jim Brown and Jeff Lansdell. The RMGA's Lynn Davis in the first flight and Chuck Chapman in the second halved their matches.
